Teaching Methods

1. The conceptual understanding through class room studies will be imparted it will emphasized to provide the participation with the skills to cope up with challenges & problems of business decisions,
2. The discussions in the class will be carried out to identify the practice used for various business decision problems. Clarify what is observable and hypothesized as to why certain decision is taken in industry or organization.
3. Cases & discussion will be taken up as scheduled.
4. Project is to be taken up by the students as per guidelines provided.
5. Individual assignment is to be carried out by students.

Class Approach and Student Evaluation

|              |    |
|--------------|----|
| Midterm Exam | 40 |
|--------------|----|

Class participation

Will be evaluated on the basis of understanding and using assigned reading and study findings, contributing to insight on analysis and action recommendation for the case or topic being discussed, and taking into account others' inputs. Excessive absence or tardiness from class or other disregard for professional behavior will adversely affect this grade. To get a good grade in participation students must verbally contribute, discuss and raise question in class. Students are encouraged to discuss material for classes & papers, but are individually responsible for all final products including examinations and the case paper. The team project is a team grade. Participation is also influenced by active contribution to the team project.

An Individual Case Study

Papers are to "mimic" regular HBS and IIPS case studies. the papers are to take into account not only the class material to that point, but also the class discussion and insights after the class. Specific criteria will be presented in class during the first two classes. Students will be provided case studies in advance in course pack itself. Students are expected to read and analyze case there own and then discuss in there groups. Submission of written report of case has to be done by group wise before the discussion in class. Details are given below. Groups for case will be declare in class.
